

With so many children across our nation home as a result of the recent COVID-19 incident, the Los Angeles Regional Internet Crimes Against Children Task Force (LA Regional ICAC) would like to share some available resources to protect them against predators who will be on many of the same social platforms during this time. Most of these children will be safe and secure with their Families. However, others will not be so lucky. Parents, family, and friends, please schedule time in your day to:

- Watch children's behavior
- Monitor Internet activities
- Know who children are interacting with online
- Establish parental Internet restrictions

Keep in mind there are several ways other than the family computer for children to access the Internet such as smartphones, tablets, and gaming systems.

Below is the link to the National Center for Missing and Exploited Children website which has published several educational tools to help educate parents and children against child predators. Go to the "Education" dropdown menu to access training videos regarding online enticement, smartphones, and social media.

LA Regional ICAC

<https://www.missingkids.org>

Go to the "Education" dropdown:

<https://www.kidsmartz.org>

<https://www.missingkids.org/netsmartz/home>

LOS ANGELES REGIONAL INTERNET
CRIMES AGAINST CHILDREN

