OFFICIAL NEWS RELEASE

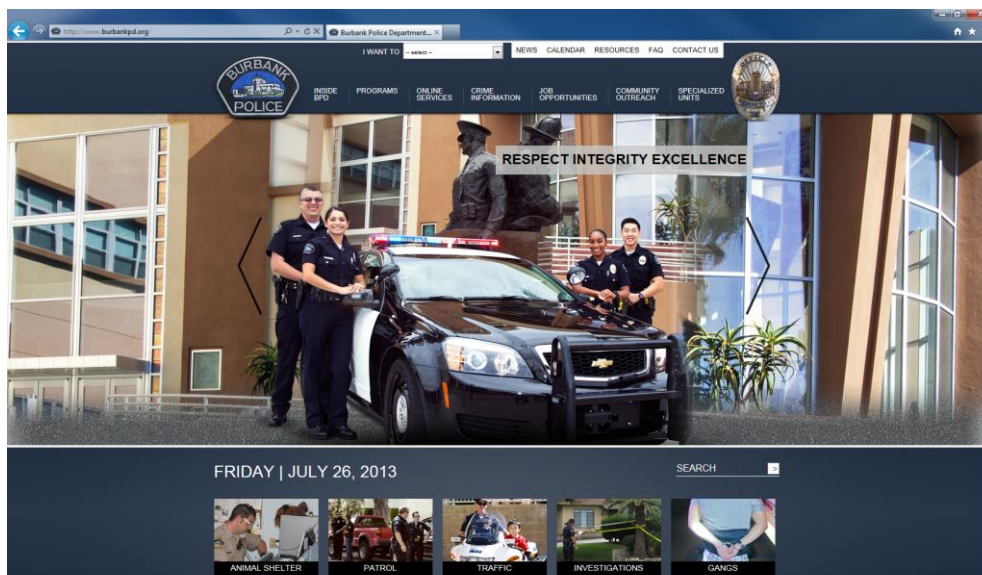

Police Launch Contemporary Website

DATE: July 26, 2013

The Burbank Police Department is pleased to announce the launch of its new website, www.Burbankpd.org. The website project is the culmination of almost two years of development, in an effort to provide the community with greater access to the police department.

Several members of the department worked closely with the web designer, Americaneagle.com, to create a vibrant and easy-to-use website, including features such as the ability to apply for film and alarm permits, commend an employee, register a complaint, and complete applications for our Community Academy classes.

Through various social media arenas including Nixle, Facebook, and Twitter, we are continuing to create a more transparent police department that is responsive to our community.
